

Richard Croce

Richard is the co-founder and President of Viking Industries, Inc., a manufacturer of corrugated board packaging, incorporated in New Paltz in 1973. He is also a co-founder and partner in Freedom Corrugated, a manufacturer of corrugated board located in Hazelton, Pennsylvania.

Richard's community and business involvement has included: Member of the New Paltz Town Board and Planning Board; Ulster County Legislator; a Director and Chair of: New Paltz Chamber of Commerce, Ulster County Development Corporation, Ulster County Community College Foundation, and the Council of Industry of Southeastern NY, and a Director of the Ulster County Chamber, advisory board of CREEO at Suny New Paltz, and a member of the Ulster County Economic Development task force.

He is currently Chairman of the board of Rondout Savings Bank.

Richard attended Dutchess Community College and Rider College in Trenton, New Jersey.

A resident of Ulster County for fifty nine years, Richard currently resides in New Paltz (since 1976) and Sanibel, Florida.